

2018 International Cognition and Cancer Task Force Conference – Social / Networking Events

Conference dinner

The 2018 ICCTF Cognition and Cancer Conference dinner is being held at STUDIO, Sydney Tower on Monday April 9th from 6.30-10.30pm. STUDIO is Sydney's highest private event space and bar, perched 305 metres above Sydney's CBD and located in Sydney Tower. The breath-taking 220 degree views over Sydney span across the Harbour, Sydney Harbour Bridge and the headlands, giving the venue a WOW factor that is unique.

Head chef Elton Inglis has worked with some of the world's leading culinary figures, including Jamie Oliver and Gordon Ramsay. He has brought his creative flair to the events kitchen and prides himself on delivering high quality food based on the best fresh and seasonal produce.

STUDIO, Sydney Tower was a finalist in the 2017 Restaurant & Catering Awards for Excellence for function and wedding catering.

At only $110 per person for a superb two-course meal (including selection of petit fours & tea / coffee) and accompanying premium Australian wines and beer, this is an event you don't want to miss.

We would encourage you to book early for the dinner as places are limited. If you are travelling with a partner they are welcome to attend.

All conference attendees who register for the dinner by Friday, March 16th will go in the draw for a top shelf bottle of Australian wine, to be awarded at the dinner.

'Meet the Experts' Networking Cruise: Wednesday April 11th from 1.00-4.00pm

This is an opportunity to network and socialise with your colleagues and peers while enjoying a relaxing 3-hour cruise on stunning Sydney Harbour on one of Captain Cook Cruises' luxury vessels – the Captain Cook III.

The cruise price of $100/person includes a delicious buffet lunch, dessert, wine, beer, soft drinks, tea and coffee. The buffet features a selection of seafood, gourmet meats, salads and vegetarian options.

If you are travelling with a partner they are welcome to attend.
